

Clue

Imagine a medical diagnosis tool powered by AI.

While the AI's analysis is helpful, wouldn't you want your doctor to explain the factors considered in the diagnosis, even if the inner workings of the AI itself remain complex?

This transparency allows for informed decisions and fosters trust in the medical professional.

How can we achieve a similar level of transparency with AI in other critical areas?

⇒ To return to the game, close this window, by clicking on the X.

1/1